Mario Deketelaere, advocaat Baker & McKenzie, lector aan de Karel de Grote-Hogeschool, gastprofessor aan Thomas More en lesgever Postgraduaat Vastgoedkunde KU Leuven.

Mario specializes in administrative and public law. His primary focus is on the regional, federal and European "environmental law" (Omgevingsrecht/Droit de l'Environnement), i.e. all law matters relating to the planning and protection of the human living environment, including the strengthening relations between environmental law, urban planning law, nature conservation and environmental impact assessment.

In this field he is recognized as one of the most recommended and leading Belgian practitioners (International Who's Who of Environment Lawyers). He has extensive knowledge and experience in the areas of soil cleanup and waste management, environmental liability issues, environmental and building permit procedures and product safety.

He advises Belgian and foreign multinational companies from different industrial sectors (chemical, metal industry, raw materials, waste treatment, energy, construction, food, ICT) on authorisation procedures and regulatory compliance, and assists clients with litigation relating to those areas of law (i.e. in civil, criminal and administrative disputes and procedures) before the national courts, the Council of State, the Constitutional Court and the EU Court of Justice.

Mario is also a visiting professor at KU Leuven and a lecturer at Karel de Grote Hogeschool.

Mario studied law at the KULAK and the KU Leuven. He also holds degrees in Business Economics (KU Leuven) and in Fiscal Sciences (Fiscale Hogeschool Brussels).
